

RAILROAD TAXES TO BE REGULATED

State Tax Commission Submits Two Bills to the Legislature Today.

PROPOSE TWO SYSTEMS

One Increases License Fees and the Other an Ad Valorem Basis of Taxes.

RAISE TAXES OVER $700,000

Madison, Wis., Jan. 30.—The railroad taxes in this state will be increased two-thirds of a million dollars a year in two railway taxation bills, drawn by the state tax commission, which were introduced in the legislature this morning. The bills were presented in each house by the chairman of the two committees on taxation. Senator Whitehead introduced them in the senate and Assemblyman Hall in the lower house. The two bills differ widely in their nature, but aim at the same result, an increase in the railroad taxes.

Increase on Gross Earnings.
One bill increases the taxes the roads pay on their gross earnings. At present the big roads pay 4 per cent. and tax grades down to 1 percent for the small roads. The bill raises the taxes of the big roads to 5½ per cent. and makes the lowest rate three per cent.

This bill is estimated will increase the taxes of the roads $600,000 or more a year. The tax commission is made a state board of assessment and collection to enforce the law. It is given authority to go behind the statement of earnings made by the companies and examine the books, and, if necessary, fix another amount as the real earnings of the companies and make the tax on that amount.

3 and 5 per Cent.
The bill provides that all roads whose earnings are less than $3,000 a mile a year shall pay three per cent. on the gross earnings, and that one-tenth of one per cent. shall be added for each $100 a mile earned over the $3,000 up to the point where the earnings are $4,000 a mile a year. All roads earning that much a year for each mile shall pay 5½ per cent. on the gross receipts.

Entirely New System.
The other bill makes an entire change in the whole method of railway taxation by repealing the whole system now prevailing and substituting another system. The new plan is to place railroads on the same basis as regards taxation as all other property except that railroad property shall be assessed by the state tax commission for the whole state instead of the local assessors.

The commission is to assess the railroads at the average rate of taxation throughout the state. This bill, it is estimated, will produce about the same amount of taxes as the first mentioned.

Drawn by Tax Commission.
The two bills are introduced in order that the legislature may take its choice of the methods. Both having been drawn by the tax commission, will have considerable prestige from that fact, and the bills, or the one, which it may be tried to pass, will be the center of a tremendous struggle. The bills especially effect the Northwestern, the Milwaukee & St. Paul, Omaha, Wisconsin Central, Burlington, and the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie.

Will Seat Alfred Cook.
The assembly committee on privileges and elections reported unanimously in favor of the seating of Alfred Cook instead of G. E. Vanderhook as assemblyman from the second district of Marathon county. A bill was introduced by Halton for the establishment of county schools of agriculture and domestic science, half of their support to be given by the state.

Attempt to Extort Money.
Seattle, Wash., Jan. 30.—F. S. Lippy, a Klondike millionaire, received a letter signed "Black Cap," demanding that $2,500 be placed in a certain spot in the suburbs of this city. The letter threatened that if the money was not promptly deposited dire vengeance would be visited upon its recipient. Lippy placed the communication in the hands of the police and detectives were stationed at the spot where it was specified that the money should be deposited, but no one appeared at the appointed time to ascertain if the money was there.

Percy Merrill is now in the employ of the New Gas Light Co.

TAMMANY CASE GOES OVER.

Evidence Against Officials Not to Be Given Present Grand Jury.

New York, Jan. 30.—No evidence against police officials submitted to the district attorney by the Tammany committee of five will be given to the January grand jury by District Attorney Philbin. The grand jury will end its sittings Thursday and the February grand jury will not be sworn in until Monday, Feb. 4. The committee of five's evidence will not be placed before the present grand jury. Regarding the original evidence submitted, the district attorney says that while he believes Chairman Nixon is entirely sincere in his endeavors to accomplish definite results, much matter not legally strong was accepted by him and given a much higher value than it really deserves. It is the public prosecutor's intention to have the evidence in such shape and so surely in conformity with the statutes bearing upon it that the grand jury will be able to dispose of it in a few hours, with the result that those persons mentioned in the evidence will be indicted.

CRAZY SNAKE TO BE TRIED FOR TREASON

Eleven Indians Belonging to Snake's Band Captured—The Revolt in Indian Territory About Over

Muskogee, I. T., Jan. 30.—Chitto Harjo, or Crazy Snake, the leader of the threatened Indian uprising, will be brought from Henrietta to this place for trial in the United States court on a charge of treason. Soldiers will be his escort. News has reached here that Marshal Bennett's deputies have captured eleven Indians belonging to Snake's band of light horsemen. The marshal and the troops, 100 strong, are now in the Deep Fork country.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—The war department has received the following from Gen. Fitzhugh Lee:

"Omaha, Neb., Jan. 28.—Adjutant-General, War Department, Washington: Lieut. Dixon, commanding troop A, 8th cavalry, Henrietta, I. T., reports no violence by Indians and no excitement at Holdenville and Eufaula; people not leaving their homes; go anywhere without fear. Chitto Harjo, Crazy Snake, was arrested yesterday without difficulty by Deputy Johnson and now held at Henrietta. Dixon instructed to give necessary protection to prevent destruction of railways or bridges. So far no acts of violence verified."

DENOUNCE VICTORIA'S REIGN.

Societies in New York Charge Murder, Cruelty, and Cant.

New York, Jan. 30.—At the regular monthly meeting of the United Irish-American societies, sixty-eight organizations being present, resolutions were unanimously passed denouncing the reign of Queen Victoria as one of bloodshed, murder, cruelty and cant. The resolutions read in part as follows:

"The population of Ireland, a land flowing with milk and honey, and capable, according to the best authorities, of supporting more than 20,000,000 people in ease and comfort, has been reduced from more than eight and one half to less than four and one half millions of people. The actual number of Irish people who have died of starvation in the midst of plenty during Queen Victoria's reign is more than a million and a quarter.

"We denounce the reign of Victoria as one long act of bloodshed, murder, cruelty and cant, and insist that when its history is truly written and the influence of snobbery, flunkeyism and toadyism is removed it will be looked back upon as one in which English wealth and power both properly passed their zenith and entered upon a rapid and permanent decline—as one in which, despite the material progress made by England in the earlier and middle part thereof, greater injustice, more cruelty, grosser wrong, were inflicted upon humanity in general and upon the Irish in particular than in the reign of any other English monarch."

TWO WOMEN LOST LIVES IN A FIRE

Wild Panic Followed the Breaking Out of the Flames in the Hotel Jefferson in New York.

New York, Jan. 30.—Two women lost their lives in a fire in the hotel Jefferson this morning at four o'clock. They are Kittle Fay, suffocated in rooms on the seventh floor and Eleanor Downing, a trained nurse, who swung by a rope from a fourth story window and when it broke her skull was fractured. Four others are suffering injuries in escaping. A wild panic prevailed following the discovery of the fire and the rescuers were plenty. Loss fifty thousand. Faulty insulation the cause.

Count Tolstol Seriously Ill.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 30.—Count Tolstol, the eminent Russian novelist and social reformer, is again seriously ill.

AMERICAN LIVES ARE IN DANGER; NEED SPEEDY AID IN VENEZUELA

Revolution in Eastern Portion Is Increasing Very Rapidly—Foreigners Surrounded and Threatened with Death at Caracas.

Port of Spain, Trinidad, Jan. 30.—The lives of the handful of Americans who are surrounded by insurgents at Caracas, Venezuela, are in extreme peril, and it is feared that they cannot hold out many more days. The body of Spanish negroes who were employed to do police duty, about 150 in number, fled at the first attack, and there are left now but twenty-five Americans to protect the colony. This report was brought from the colony at Pitch Lake to Caracas by a trustworthy engineer who is well known here. He employed the United States consul at Caracas to send out protection immediately, as the people were being exposed to nightly guerrilla attacks, that firing was general from all around the jungle, and that the men were too few to hold out long. The war between the government and the rebels, far from being allayed, as had been expected and stated, is on the increase, and in eastern Venezuela it is assuming dangerous proportions. The insurgents have retaken Carupano and are marching on Cumana. It is expected that an attack will be made on the town tomorrow. Steamers are not allowed to land passengers or mails at Carupano. The commander of the French cruiser Suchet, which lies there, confirms this intelligence and the reported activity of the insurgents. It appears that an attempt to capture Ciudad Bolivar, capital of the state of Bolivar, about 375 miles up the Orinoco, is likely to be made as soon as the insurgents have received a large supply of arms expected. Cables to the Trinidad papers from Caracas and the vicinity are severely censored and there is every reason to believe that conditions, far from being exaggerated, are considerably under-rated. The Venezuelan government has threatened three American reporters with forcible expulsion and is rigorously suppressing all news dispatches to the United States. It is supposed that trouble is in store, as the diplomats are affirming that their diplomatic messages have been tampered with.

TEN WOMEN OF ANTHONY, KANSAS, GATHER AND DEMOLISH 3 SALOONS

Bar Tender in One of the Places Showed Fight, and He Was Whacked on the Head with a Beer Bottle—Mrs. Nation Also Acts

Wichita, Kan., Jan. 30.—Three saloons were demolished at Anthony at an early hour this morning by ten women members of the W. C. T. U. The damage done to the joints was twenty thousand dollars.

The women were led by Mrs. Sheriff of Danville who claims credit for starting Mrs. Nation on her saloon crusade. The first place raided was James Hensley's. The women smashed nearly all the bar fixtures, but overlooked several hundred dollars' worth of liquor.

With a pick-ax Mrs. Sheriff broke open the door of the second place.

KING OF PORTUGAL REACHES LONDON

King Leopold of Belgium, Sailed from Ostend for England This Morning.

London, Jan. 30.—King Charles of Portugal arrived in London this afternoon and was received at Buckingham Palace by King Edward. After greeting him Edward started for Osborne. The Duke of Cornwall is confined to a room at Osborne with measles and will be unable to attend the funeral.

Ostend, Jan. 30.—King Leopold of Belgium sailed for England this morning.

STILL WAR IN AFRICA

Smith-Dorian Dispersed the Boers in Eastern Transvaal—Knox Had a Battle with Dewet.

London, Jan. 30.—Lord Kitchener reports that Smith Dorian has dispersed the Boers near Carolana in the Eastern Transvaal. Loss five killed, ten wounded. General Knox engaged Dewet forty miles north of Thabanchu. No details. Kitchener says that Dewet again intends to commence an invasion of Cape Colony. Commandant Marus has been captured by the British at Moddersfontein.

Never Too Old to Wed.
Chicago, Jan. 30.—John Morris, a septuagenarian who lives at Paxton, Ill., took out a license to marry Miss Lizzie E. Getzinger, of Chicago, who is 53 years old. Mr. Morris says Chicago is a very good "town," but he likes Paxton better, and proposes to make that his home.

Earlman to Rule Valuable Road.
New York, Jan. 30.—Edward H. Earlman is now in undisputed control of the Chicago Terminal Transfer Railroad company and its connecting lines. The great deal has been finally consummated. The company is capitalized at $20,000,000.

Death Punishment Must Go.
Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 30.—Capital punishment is to be abolished in the state of Minnesota and imprisonment for life will be substituted. A measure providing for this has been introduced by Representative Hendrick.

OBJECT TO TEACHER'S HUGS

Prof. Booth of a Columbus School Asked to Resign.

Columbus, O., Jan. 30.—Sensational rumors regarding the treatment of Prof. George H. Booth, superintendent of Loudonville public schools of a number of his female pupils came to a dramatic climax when the senior class of the high school appeared before Rev. M. R. Walter, president of the board of education, and refused to continue school or even graduate under the superintendency of Prof. G. H. Booth. The professor, who is a married man, is charged with hugging the girls. The pupils say he has been in the habit of summoning them to his office on pretext that they were wanted at the telephone and that he attempted to hug them. Prof. Booth has been asked to resign.

Train Wrecked by an Avalanche.
Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 30.—A train on the White Pass railway was wrecked by an avalanche near Summit and partially buried. It took four hours to dig out two men imprisoned in the wreck, who were found unconscious.

FILIPINOS QUIT THE CHURCH OF ROME

Ten Thousand Catholics Renounce Papal Rule—Friars Said To Be the Cause.

Manila, Jan. 30.—After mature deliberation 10,000 Catholic members of the Federal party, citizens of the district of Binondo and Manila, which is the headquarters of the spirit of the party, have resolved to completely separate from the Vatican, believing that the doctrines of Rome are detrimental to the progress of the country. Those favoring a middle course proposed the formation of a Filipino synod, and the throwing off of spiritual tutelage. A majority, however, joined the extremists in demanding complete emancipation from Rome, leaving the question of a new church to be decided later.

The real trouble which is causing the threatened schism, does not lie with the church, which is sincerely loved, but with the friars, whose return to the provinces, backed by Archbishop Capelle, is the cause of constant agitation among the Filipinos, who are rapidly absorbing liberal ideas. So much has been written about the general hatred of the friars here, and the sincere desire of the enlightened Filipinos for the complete separation of church and state, that Americans must realize the gravity of the situation from a religious standpoint. The Federals hold that the friars must not be permitted to return to the provinces. Catholicism, they say, is essentially and honestly loved, and the church can accomplish the greatest peace, but not through the friars. Leading Federals, representing the strongest political organization, which is rapidly spreading throughout the archipelago, seem to be resolved upon the complete elimination of the friars or the renunciation of the church of Rome.

COL. BOYLE NAMED GENERAL AGENT

A Well Deserved Promotion in the Passenger Department of the Milwaukee Road Made.

Milwaukee, Jan. 30.—The office of general agent in Milwaukee has been established by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, and a bulletin issued this morning by General Passenger Agent F. A. Miller, announces the appointment of Colonel W. J. Boyle as the first incumbent of the newly created position.

Colonel Boyle, who is also the city passenger agent in this city, will have immediate charge of the passenger and ticket business in the city of Milwaukee and its suburbs, and will have direct charge of the city and depot ticket offices.

Bark Is Burned at Sea.
Mobile, Ala., Jan. 30.—The British steamship Governor Blake, which has arrived here from Grand Cayman, brought news of the destruction of a bark by fire at sea. Presumably the entire crew perished on the vessel, which is supposed to have been the Mary from New York. Seamen could be seen clinging to the rigging, but the vessel was enveloped in flames and rescue was impossible.

Custom Cutters in Convention.
Cincinnati, O., Jan. 30.—The twenty-first annual convention of the National Custom Cutters' association convened here today for a session of four days. There are about 200 delegates, representing all the leading cities of the country. President John E. Peltz of Richmond, Ind., and other officers made their annual reports.

Patience Better than Argument.
If men would you with injuries, meet them with patience; hasty words rattle the wound, soft language dresses it, forgiveness cures it, and oblivion takes away the scar. It is more noble by silence to avoid an injury than by argument to overcome it.—Beaumont.

REGAL FUNERAL FOR THE QUEEN

Magnificent Trappings of Woe in England on Next Saturday.

PURPLE FORMOURNING

Details of the Passage of the Royal Remains to Windsor Castle.

BURIAL SERVICE IS MODIFIED

London, Jan. 30.—The route of the funeral procession next Saturday has been fixed from Buckingham palace road past the palace and the Mall to the Marlborough house gate; thence through St. James street and Piccadilly to Hyde Park corner; thence to the marble arch and Sussex gardens and thence to Paddington where the remains will be placed on a train for Windsor.

Six cream-colored Flemish stallions from the Buckingham palace mews will draw the gun carriage on which the body will rest. The harness will be the same as that used during the jubilee procession, and will be covered with crepe. The horses will be led by men of the royal artillery. The wheels of the gun carriage will have rubber tires.

The pall, which will be of white embroidered satin, lined with white silk, will be made by the students of the Royal School of Art and Needlework at South Kensington. It will be nearly ten feet long and seven feet wide, with two heavy gold fringes. The royal arms will be in each corner, surmounted by a gold crown.

Decoration of Funeral Carriage.
The lion will be in applique cloth-of-gold and the unicorn in applique cloth-of-silver worked in silk embroidery. The crowns embroidered in silks and gold bullion, the groundwork for the quarterings being entirely in stitches of crimson and gold respectively, with devices in colors. The garter will be of blue silk with the motto in gold. The ribbon will be of silk applique with the motto in gold.

That part of the deck of the royal yacht on which Queen Victoria's body will be taken to Portsmouth will be converted into a chapel by a black awning with crimson. Two maids of honor besides the naval aids, will accompany the coffin, which will lie between the mainmast and the saloon. Mr. Choate, the American ambassador will represent the United States at the queen's funeral.

Mourning Order Issued.

In a special edition of the Gazette today the Earl Marshal, the Duke of Norfolk, notified the militia to go into deep mourning until March 6, and into half mourning from that date until April 17. There had been a strong outcry from manufacturers and merchants at a long period of mourning.

The dealers regarded the first edict with dismay, and widespread injury to the colored goods trade, in many cases actual ruin was anticipated. Following the precedent of 1768, when the city merchants petitioned George III. to curtail the period of mourning, trade circles in the United Kingdom had already started a petition to King Edward VII. begging him to limit the period of official mourning.

Official Mourning Brief.

On previous occasions the Prince of Wales, used his influence in this direction and now, as king, he has asserted his well-known opposition to long periods of official mourning. Practically all business will be suspended Saturday. The stores will not open except in the poorer quarters.

Burial Service Modified.

The dean and chapter of St. Paul's cathedral have drafted a memorial service which, if approved by the privy council, will be used throughout the country. It is a modification of the burial service, with penitential psalms and suitable music. The authorities have decided to hold only a noon service at St. Paul's, abandoning the proposed choral communion at 9:30 a. m., owing to the representations of the police that it would be impossible for them to handle the crowd.

Emperor William has commanded Count von Wadel, master of horse, to bring six of his majesty's chargers from Berlin, and the Kaiser, the Crown Prince and the other Germans in official attendance at the funeral will ride in the procession. King Edward has commanded A. Forster, the well-known artist, to draw the lying-in-state for him. The king and queen with the Kaiser, will attend the memorial service in St. George's chapel, Windsor, Sunday.

KENOSHA GOLFERS AIR A GRIEVANCE

The "Unfair Caddie" Story Strikes the Sinnissippi Golf Club Players with Considerable Surprise.

The following article appeared in the Kenosha Evening News of Jan. 28:

"C. P. Garst has arrived home, coming direct from Janesville. While in the latter town he made the acquaintance of several members of the Country club of that place. The Janesville golfers claim that Kenosha has not treated them exactly as she should have done, as they feel that they are entitled to an opportunity to show Kenosha how the game is played. Mr. Colin C. McLean claims that Kenosha is afraid of Janesville. He says that Janesville has conquered almost every team that has played with them, and that Kenosha having heard of their prowess, is purely and simply afraid to meet them, especially on their own grounds.

"Mr. McLean says that reports have reached Janesville (which reports may possibly have been started in fun by that inveterate Scotch practical joker, Mr. Burgess Hatch) that Kenosha has made the claim that they were not defeated by fair means in their game there, intimating that the Janesville caddies 'knew their business,' and that through their valuable assistance Kenosha could not win. Mr. McLean is loath to believe that Kenosha believes any such rot, and states that the members of their club are golfers and sportsmen, and he wishes to believe the same of the Kenosha players, and that if any caddie did 'help' a Janesville player to win a game it was entirely without the consent of said Janesville player, and what is more, if any member of the club should catch one of their caddies doing anything that even had the appearance of wrong, in a match game, or even in a friendly game among themselves, said caddie would be discharged so quick it 'would make his head swim.'

"Mr. McLean says he hopes Kenosha will arrange to give them a game on their own (Janesville's) grounds early in the coming season, after which they will be glad to play a return game either in Kenosha or on any other grounds that may be mutually agreeable. He sees no reason why Kenosha and Janesville should not be on just the same terms as each club is with the rest of the golfing world, and hopes that any seeming differences may be satisfactorily adjusted, and that Kenosha will consent to an arrangement whereby it can be determined at an early date which club has 'two yolks in their egg,' which club is the master of the other.

The members of the Janesville Country Club, or more properly, the Sinnissippi Golf Club, were much surprised at the above article. They were not aware that any such feeling as described in the article, existed, and can hardly believe the Kenosha club is responsible for such a report. A statement of this character spread broadcast over the country does an injury to a club that it will be hard to efface, and the Sinnissippi club are loath to believe there is any truth in the statement.

Observe Twentieth Anniversary.

Twenty years ago this coming Saturday the Christian Endeavor Society was organized, and Sunday is named as the anniversary day. The society of the local Presbyterian church is arranging a special program for the occasion, which will be given at the church Sunday evening, beginning at 6 o'clock. Miss Fannie Jackson, state secretary, will have charge of the meeting.

Rheumatism

Rheumatic pains are the cries of protest and distress from tortured muscles, aching joints and excited nerves. The blood has been poisoned by the accumulation of waste matter in the system, and can no longer supply the pure and health sustaining food they require. The whole system feels the effect of this blood poison, and not until the blood has been purified and brought back to a healthy condition will the aches and pains cease.

Mrs. James Kell, of 707 Ninth street, N. E., Washington, D. C., writes as follows: "A few months ago I had an attack of Sciatic Rheumatism in its worst form. The pain was so intense that I became completely prostrated. The attack was an unusually severe one, and my condition was regarded as being very dangerous. I was attended by one of the most able doctors in Washington, who is also a member of the faculty of a leading medical college here. He told me to continue his prescriptions and I would get well. After having it filled twelve times without receiving the slightest benefit, I declined to continue his treatment any longer. Having heard of S. S. S. (Swift's Specific) recommended for Rheumatism, I decided, almost in despair however, to give the medicine a trial, and after I had taken a few bottles I was able to hobble around on crutches, and very soon thereafter had no use for them at all. S. S. S. having cured me sound and well. All the distressing pains have left me, my appetite has returned, and I am happy to be again restored to perfect health."

SSS the great vegetable purifier and tonic, is the ideal remedy in all rheumatic troubles. There are no opiates or minerals in it to disturb the digestion and lead to ruinous habits.

We have prepared a special book on Rheumatism which every sufferer from this painful disease should read. It is the most complete and interesting book of the kind in existence. It will be sent free to any one desiring it. Write our physicians fully and freely about your case. We make no charge for medical advice.

LATEST CRAZE---THE RUMMAGE SALE.

The Rummage Sale, the Rummage Sale; All hail the festive Rummage Sale. The latest, greatest issue since the dinner pail. The fad that clears the attic out And likewise also clears the cellar, And swaps off one man's scrap heap For the dollars of some other fellow; The raging craze that captivates societies And finds a market for old junk No matter how high it is. There is nothing new beneath the sun, Nor in the modern rummage sale. It looks as if the stock in trade Were gathered by a Texas gale. And people crowd the bargain rooms All clamoring to buy and pay, For superannuated trash That other people throw away. Variety is the essence of this endeavor, And what you can't find at the sale, You'll never find at all--no, never. The list is all embracing, Ranging from a broken looking glass To cooking stoves and can openers, False hair and candlesticks of brass. There's comedy in all this bric a brac; It wakes trains of memory Of the faces, days and years far back; Rare visions of long and by-gone scenes, Most surely will the heart regale Amid the rag-tag relics of That latest craze, the Rummage Sale.

SOCIETY REDUCED TO LEVEL OF AUCTION

Craze Among the 400 To Give Valuable Favors--Richest Gifts Draws the Crowds.

At a recent dance in New York city the favors alone cost the hostess nearly $5,000. Since the custom of giving them first obtained here many young men and women have preserved them as mementos, and some of the collections are highly interesting, as well as extremely valuable. The famous "ten thousand dollar Vanderbilt ball" of some twenty years ago would seem a ridiculously insignificant affair today without its favors.

To be up to date such a ball would have to cost $50,000, and the favors would have to include bank stocks and government securities worth at least $50,000 more. Two hundred and fifty guests attended Mrs. William Douglas Sloane's dance on Monday night, and among the favors were opera glasses, watch charms, chateaux, etc.

A woman whose husband is worth about $1,000,000 said yesterday: "It is a dangerous precedent for us poor people. Yes, I mean 'poor' people. Before this absurd practice of giving favors was established we commoners with $10,000 or $50,000 a year could afford to give one or two dances in a season and feel right respectable. But now?"

"Why even the funkeys laugh at us. Favors have increased so in value that I should feel embarrassed to take one home. If this craze continues I would not be at all surprised to see the Astors and Vanderbilts, the Whitneys and Yerkesses, and the Clarks and Sloans presenting houses and lots to their guests."

Society is reduced nearly to the level of an auction. It is exceedingly difficult to get a crowd to attend a reception or a dance unless extraordinary inducements are offered. Women as well as men hold themselves on the blocks to be knocked down to the highest bidder. In all society there are precious few really desirable persons. The rest must be accepted and endured because they flock with the herd and help to fill in the waste places of an evening.

The multi-millionaire who offers the richest favors and the best dinner gets the crowd every time. That familiar adage that every man has his price hits society hard. The cynic says: "Society folks fly so low that you can knock 'em down with brooms." He is wrong. You've got to buy 'em and pay their price. It is a mistake to suppose that when Mr. Quintillion throws open his doors to an evening society will rush in. He sends his butler and baker into the highways and hedges with promises of grub, champagne, and trinkets.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

In presenting the parish priest for public favor, Dan'l Sully wishes to announce that it is by far the greatest play that he has ever offered. It is replete with deft touches of humor and pathos, combined with a story of absorbing heart interest. It teaches the necessity of honor in the social relations of life, as well as in business. The comedy is sparkling, its dialogue crisp and the situations are amusing as well as dramatic. It appears at the Grand tomorrow night.

"Sherlock Holmes" will be presented at the Grand under the management of Mr. Charles Frohman, whose name stands for honesty of purpose in staging and for the best that can be secured in the way of companies. A tour of the principal cities only is being made by the company playing here, as the piece is too expensive for the smaller towns.

"The Belle of New York" is a most fascinating girl who wears beautiful gowns and is continually smiling. An evening with this production is always one of the most delightful memories of the theatrical season. Watch for her on February 26.

Commissioners Award Damages.
The commissioners appointed by Judge Dunwiddie to assess the damage to property on Gold and North streets, by the lowering of the tracks of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, filed their report yesterday afternoon. The commissioners consisted of S. C. Cobb, Albert Schaller and W. H. H. Macdonald. Their findings were as follows: Dennis J. Barry, lot 3, block 29, Smith's addition, $100.
Charles Bunge and Mary Ellen Reed, lot 4, block 29, Smith's addition, $30.
Richard Barry, lot 1, block 30 Smith's addition, $250.
John Foley, Anna Thompson, Frank Thompson, lot 14 block 19, Smith's addition, $50.
David Griffin, lot 13, block 19, Smith's addition, $50.
Patrick J. Dulin, lot 7, block 21, Smith's addition, $50.
Ellis Stack, lot 8, block 21, Smith's addition, $50.
They found that Mary Griffin, who owns lot 12, block 19, Smith's addition, sustained no damage, and so report.

WISCONSIN BLUE BOOK FOR 1901

Personal Material Has Been Collected and Will Soon Be in Hands of the State Printer.

All the personal material for the Wisconsin Blue Book of 1901 has been collected, and in a few days it will be in the hands of the state printer. Robert H. Odell, who is compiling the material for the volume, said yesterday that it would probably not be ready for distribution until May, as there is likely to be a good deal of delay in getting the census figures.

Occupations of Legislators.
A survey of the legislature table shows that the occupations of the senators are divided as follows: Merchants, 9; lawyers, 8; farmers, 4; manufacturers, 4; lumbermen, 2; bankers, 2; brewers, clerks and editors, 1 each. In the assembly there are 25 farmers, 18 merchants, 17 lawyers, 6 manufacturers, 5 insurance men, 3 bankers, 3 lumbermen, 2 dairymen, 2 journalists and publishers, 2 real estate men and 4 are classified as retired. Of physicians, druggists, saloonkeepers, painters, mining engineers, barbers, title abstractors and contractors, there are one each in the assembly list. The Grand Army men in both houses count up 11, of which 7 are in the assembly and 4 in the senate.

Four senators and 63 assemblymen are serving their first terms. De Wayne Stebbins of Algoma, is the oldest senator, and Norman A. Kundson of Manitowoc, the youngest, the former being 68 and the latter 27 years of age. A. R. Hall of Knapp, has been in the assembly since 1891, and Speaker G. H. Ray of La Crosse, and John Thomas of Chippewa county, since 1895. August Gawin, of Milwaukee, Andrew Jensen of Waupaca and Henry Overbeck of Sturgeon Bay are three-term members. William Rogers of Kewaunee was a member of the assembly in 1882, E. W. Evans of Sauk county in 1885 and George Spratt of Sheboygan Falls in 1887.

Classified by Birth.
By birth the assembly is divided as follows: Wisconsin-born, 44; born in America outside of Wisconsin, 28; foreign-born, 29. In the latter class there are eight born in Denmark, Norway and Sweden, 5 in Germany and 4 in Wales. The only assemblyman born in Ireland is James Fennell of Ripon and the only Scotch-born member is George McMillan of Arlington. John M. Barlow of Juneau is the oldest member, being 68, while the three youngest are John Karel, Morris McCabe and John Norton, each being 28 years of age. The age record shows that fifty-eight assemblymen and twenty-eight senators are under 50 years of age.

No one would ever be bothered with constipation if everyone knew how naturally and quickly Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the stomach and bowels. Cures croup, sore throat, pulmonary troubles--Monarch over pain of every sort. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. It's a mistake to imagine that itching piles can't be cured; a mistake to suffer a day longer than you can help. Doan's Ointment brings instant relief and permanent cure. At any drug store, 50 cents.

A blessing alike to young and old; Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry nature's specific for dysentery, diarrhoea and summer complaint.

Egg Membrane for Wounds.
German surgeons have discovered that the delicate membrane which covers the contents of an egg will answer as well as bits of skin from a human being to start the healing of open wounds which would not otherwise heal. The discovery has already been successfully tested.

INDOMITABLE BOERS

UNDER NEW LEADERS THE WAR DRUM STILL BEATS TO ARMS.

A Strange Turn to the Campaign Which Earl "Boha" Ended So Gloriously to Himself—De Wet, Botha and Delarey Baffling the British.

[Copyright, 1901, by G. L. Kinner.]

ORD ROBERTS is the new hero of England and a right big hero, too, but the rest of the world is interested in the fellows he failed to whip at the price of his earldom. Botha, Delarey, De Wet, any one of these names or all of them, may bring out of the South African war greater military glory than that clinging to "Old Bobs." The war is well into its second year, the tropical summer is on, and Great Britain is still maintaining several moving columns in the field as well as vast garrisons and patrols. Cape Colony is under invasion and parts of it under the British guns, a state of things which could not follow a victory worthy the name.

There is talk now of 20,000 Boers still under arms, and the Boers insist that they never had more than that in the days of Joubert and Cronje. Perhaps this is another case of defective British vision in the atmosphere of South Africa, the valiant English see double when counting their enemies. But whether the Boers number hundreds or thousands the dispatches of the British general in chief, Kitchener, show that all his best men have their hands full keeping the enemy shadowed. As for catching him, why, that art seems to have passed to the Boers. When the telegraph says that De Wet or Delarey has been cornered then another British garrison is gone.

GENERAL DE WET.

For two months past every move on the military map tends to show that Kruger's departure put the war ahead by bringing fresh blood to the front. The policy of 1899, when Joubert and Kruger were at the helm, was really cautious while it looked to be bold. Ladysmith, Kimberley and Mafeking were besieged, it is true, but they were not captured, and the result was the tying up of Boer forces that might have been better employed, considering the problem before the Boers. The strategy of threatening those cities was good, because it divided the British, but it narrowed the task very much. The Boers hadn't men enough to carry on sieges and fight battles with the enemy in open field at the same time.

The rapid movement of the Boer was counted upon originally to give him advantage over the British, but this availed nothing so long as he staid in the trenches before Ladysmith or Kimberley. Finally the British got under way and beat him at the game of mobility. Had the Boers defended the passes to the Transvaal with suitable numbers and sent the remainder of their troops out under leaders like De Wet, Delarey and Louis Botha to harass the British advance, cut lines of communication and rally the Dutch beyond the border they might have baffled the British until this time and still hold Pretoria. It was demonstrated in the American civil war that places are nothing so long as armies are in the field. Lee, Johnston, Hood and Forrest had to be destroyed before there was an end to the conflict. In a war where 3,000 men could hold White in Ladysmith and keep Buller out for months a few hundred fellows on horseback, with Mousers in their hands, constitute for all practical purposes an army, and there seem to be enough Boer bands of that number in the field to employ French, Clements, Brabant, Knox and other generals, to say nothing of Baden-Powell and Thorneycroft of Spion Kop fame.

In its present phase the war is very cheap for the Boer. He lives off the enemy, as the Confederate General Forrest did with his whole corps. First and last Forrest captured enough clothing, food, equipments, ammunition and horses to supply an army larger than his own for years. So De Wet, while dodging the nets spread by the redoubtable Kitchener last June, captured incidentally stores of clothing, food and ammunition to supply his force for the winter campaign. Really the British soldiers are keeping up the war by turning over to the enemy in stated quantities all the sinews needed for the time being. The isolation of the Boers seemed to be a fatal weakness at the start, but it is of no consequence so long as England sends down everything necessary for both sides in the conflict. De Wet has declared that he will never surrender, but will fight so long as there is a man to stand by him in battle. These brave words have been made good, for even when running the Boer is fighting—that is, he is saving his chance to fight when the right time comes.

Louis Botha has fought in a different way from De Wet, but that is no indication that the Boers lack a plan at this time. Botha keeps the field east of Pretoria. He is the general in chief, and the roaming bands know where to find him. Botha came into prominence in the newspapers after Spion Kop, but the British had made his acquaintance on the field long before that. At Dundee he set his face against surrender, and the first battle of Colenso, which cost the British so dear, was planned and fought by this novice in war. Spion Kop he recovered after it had been abandoned to the enemy.

Delarey has been an active second of De Wet and sometimes a host in himself. His battle the middle of December with General Clements was a furious one and made the British see double again. First the fusiliers, then the Northumberlanders, were overthrown, and the yeomanry fared no better when brought in to save the day. Clements had to retreat and fight for the right of way, yet the Boer force estimated at 4,000 really numbered but 400. The British attribute the disaster wrought by these few to their khaki uniforms.

De Wet is the man most feared by the British, and their hope, at the time of the fresh invasion of Cape Colony in December, was that he might be held north of the Orange river. Said one correspondent who was in the field near De Wet's camp:

"De Wet has never been taken seriously enough. It is of little use to pursue him, as he fights a rear guard action and gains 20 miles while he is being fought. He is a born military genius, whose wonderful powers have kept up this phenomenal resistance."

"Once he fails the whole thing could be crushed in a fortnight. He has every single command under his supervision. All his patrols and columns march and countermarch on his order. The forces under his command have been reduced by his strength of will to a properly organized army, moving at his word. The sooner the British rid themselves of the idea that De Wet's forces are a mere rabble, wandering aimlessly, the sooner they will grasp the need of the determined effort which is necessary to capture him."

A correspondent of the London Mail, who is also in the field, sums up De Wet's methods as follows:

"For the purpose of his warfare De Wet needs no heavy battalions. He dislikes a force exceeding 500, and the men he has with him are picked men—men of the soil, hunters every one of them. Boers who possess in a lesser degree the qualities that have made their leader."

"Hesitant and nothing but taut, and he dislikes all obstacles that interfere with his personal converse with his men. The foreigners who have so grievously retarded Louis Botha's movements have had no place in the flying column of De Wet."

"A man of middle age, middle height and middle weight, De Wet is not a man either in bearing or appearance to attract attention. He wears a scrubby short beard and a thick mustache. His dress used to be a seedy black coat and a pair of striped trousers—nothing anywhere to denote the general, the man who for months has defied the cleverest generals, the swiftest troops of the British army."

"But in his face is the stamp of invincible determination. The mouth, slightly drooped at the corners, is carried tightly closed, and the strong, square jaw is firmly set beneath the straggly beard. The high, square forehead rises steeply from a pair of bushy eyebrows, beneath which the restless, all-seeing eyes gaze out to the distance. There is seldom a smile in those eyes, but there is the gleam of a steady purpose, the cold resourcefulness of a man hunted by his fellows."

"It is out of those eyes and others such as they that De Wet kept in touch with his opponents' movements. De Wet from his kopie top looks down at the wide rolling plain in one of the folds of which the railway lies. All of the farm folk there are his friends."

"Suddenly from a Kafir hut, whose uncertain outline can just be discerned through the heat haze, a thin column of smoke rises. It is the signal of game in the neighborhood. A train has failed to breast the steep incline behind the second row of knolls, an insufficiently guarded convoy is winding its way among the kopjes or a picket is trekking loosely across the plain."

"Whatever it be, De Wet and his men are ready, and three days later we read in England of another convoy captured or an outpost waylaid."

"When graver matters are afoot, De Wet can always call to his aid one or two additional bands of 500, and, with the conjoined force, he fights a Sanna's Post or a Roodewaal."

De Wet's recent charge through the British lines at Springhan Nek was as daring as that of the Light brigade at Balaklava. The British had guns on the right and left of the pass and in open field beyond. Making a point on the left, the whole Boer column dashed through, losing but 25 men and one cannon. Men so reckless of facing fire are difficult to surround, and until they are captured the war may go on in spite of England's gold and England's crack battalions. An invasion of Cape Colony with 5,000 men under De Wet would be serious.

GENERAL BOTHA.

UNPRECEDENTED FAME.

Vinol, the New Form of Cod Liver Oil.

Causes a Sensation in Medical Circles.

Not Only in America, But in Europe.

"Good news goes fast," said Mr. Smith of Smith's pharmacy yesterday, talking to a reporter about that wonderful Vinol, concerning which so much is heard nowadays. "Why, you know that besides being talked about in New England, many of the prominent papers in America are devoting more or less space to this wonderful discovery. See here, what do you think of this?" Whereupon Mr. Smith produced an article from the Lancet of London, England.

The Lancet is the greatest medical publication in the world, and anything appearing in its columns is considered as undisputed evidence. "Let me read this to you," said Mr. Smith. "I won't bother you with much of it, but here is enough to show you what the great men of the old world think of Vinol," whereupon he read the following:

"Recent investigation has led to the isolation of several distinct bodies in cod liver oil, notably amongst which are the alkaloids. These principles have been tested faithfully and the results form the subject of an exclusive report by Gautier and Mourgues in the Journal de Pharmacie, who concluded that the active principles of cod liver oil act as powerful stimulants of nutrition and assimilation, and show definitely the nature of the principles to which the oil owes its valuable medicinal properties."

"And the best part of all this is," continued Mr. Smith, "it is not only the physicians that are enthusiastic, but the people who are taking the remedy. After all, I do not blame them much, either. It does not take but a minute for any one who is obliged to take cod liver oil to find out that Vinol is tasteless. Then the patient soon realizes its advantage. It does good so much more quickly, and accomplishes the desired end in a much more marked manner than cod liver oil in its crude form was ever able to do. Oh yes, of course I consider the success of Vinol as assured. How can it be otherwise, a discovery that has revolutionized the form and made it practical to prescribe the greatest known medicine for all wasting diseases."

"Just think what it means; getting all the benefits in a concentrated form, and no more nauseating, vile-smelling grease. Yes, come any time you want to see me. I am always glad to see you about Vinol, and I find out more to say in its praise every day."

Take Rocky Mountain Tea. See it exterminates poison. Feel it revitalize your blood and nerves and bring back that happy, joyous feeling of boyhood days. 35c. Sold at Smith's pharmacy, kodak agents, next to postoffice.

Youth Acquitted of Murder.

Murphysboro, Ill., Jan. 30.—Maurice Jones, 17 years old, was acquitted of the charge of murder in killing Wallace Johnston last July. The youthfulness of the defendant and the prominence of both families made the case of more than ordinary interest. Jones struck Johnston on the head with the handle of a pitchfork at a threshing and the latter died two days later.

"Don't Speak"

To the motorman, "is a sign to be seen on the front platform of many cars. It requires all his thought, all his energy and all his strength to pilot his car through crowded streets. The strain tells on him, and some when he gets 'rattled' and has an accident. The surest way to sustain the physical strength and nervous force required by the motorman or railroad man is to keep the stomach in a condition of sound health. When the stomach becomes 'weak,' food is imperfectly digested and the body is deprived of its necessary nourishment. The nerves are 'unstrung' and the body is weakened."

The timely use of Doctor Pierce's Discovery when the stomach is 'weak' will re-establish the body in vigorous health. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, nourishes the nerves and purifies the blood.

"I suffered for four years with pain in my stomach so that at times I couldn't work or eat," writes Mr. Frank Smith, of Granite, Chaffee Co., Colo. "I wrote to you about my sickness and was told to use your medicine, which I did with good results. I only used four bottles of your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and must say that I am entirely cured, and feel like a new man, and I can highly recommend your medicine to any sufferer."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE GAZETTE FORCE.

The Gazette force has been crippled for some time, by the absence of two of its active workers, Burton F. Nowlan, the managing editor, and James C. Wilmarth, the business manager.

The many friends of these boys, who for fifteen years, have associated together in various capacities on the paper, will be pleased to know that both of them are on the road to recovery.

Mr. Nowlan, after being confined to his bed the most of the time for four months, is able to move about his room on crutches. He has suffered intensely from an injured knee joint, as the result of an accident in boyhood, and his recovery at times seemed doubtful. But good care, aided by a will that never says die, has pulled him through with good prospects of being on deck again in good time. He will find a host of friends waiting to congratulate him when he comes down the street.

Mr. Wilmarth was obliged to go to Texas on account of falling health more than a year ago. In company with his wife he located on a ranch eight miles from El Paso, and spent a year in a tent, fighting tuberculosis trouble. One lung was said to be gone, but the other not affected, when he was attacked with typhoid fever. His friends despaired of his life, but after eight weeks in the hospital he came out two weeks ago better than when he went in. His physician tells him that if his lungs "harden up" as they promise to, that he is good for lots of work in the right climate, but that he will probably not be able to return to Wisconsin except to visit. So "Jim," as he is familiarly known, is planning to go to work in Texas, while "Burt" hopes soon to be in his accustomed haunts in Janesville.

The Gazette, in the meantime, has lived, because of the indulgence of its friends, and because a paper is a hard thing to kill. You can't burn it up, and while it may be crippled beyond recognition, it appears to have as many lives as a cat, and all because of the half century behind it, and a patient clientele surrounding it. In behalf of the absent members of the force, as well as others interested, The Gazette says "Thank you" to the public for generous support.

AN EXTRA SESSION.

There are three important measures not likely to be disposed of at the present session of congress, that may make it necessary for the president to call an extra session.

One of them is the Cuban question. The people of that island are becoming restless under military rule, and as soon as their congress formulates a plan of self-government and submits it to this country for ratification, we should be in position to act on it promptly. The president very wisely decides that congress must share the responsibility.

Another question of equal or greater importance is the Philippine question. The United States commission is attempting to bring order out of chaos, as fast as possible, but questions will arise within the next ninety days that will require the wisdom of congress to settle.

The third question which should have been definitely settled before this, but which is likely to go over, is the ratification of the gold standard. Why congress is so slow in this matter, the public is not advised. It is certainly not for lack of assurance. If it is simple negligence, both houses should be called together the fifth of March and kept in session until their duty is accomplished. The country is in no humor to tolerate this kind of dilatory legislation.

There are other questions like the ship subsidy and oleomargarine bills, but they will keep, and the country will not suffer if they never see daylight.

While the president may have the power to handle all of the important questions mentioned, congress has no right to shirk responsibility, and especially when the president requests that body to act.

MORE CONSOLIDATION.
People who always go up in the air every time the word "trust" is mentioned, took another flight a day or two ago, when they read that the Morgan-Harriman-Vanderbilt syndicate are about closing negotiations for the Pullman Car Company works, with a view to making it a part of the great railway system of the country.

Not that these people spend any money on Pullman cars, many of them wouldn't know a Pullman train from a through freight if it wasn't labeled, but they see in the combination of capital a wake of wreckage as big as a mountain.

The sugar trust, that has kept sugar hovering around the twenty pounds for a dollar mark for the past ten years, and the Standard Oil Trust, that has made oil cheaper than daylight, for about the same length of time, are both villainous because they have made Rockefeller and Havemeyer rich, after investing millions of dollars in the enterprise.

The trust croaker, in this enlightened age, whether in college, in congress, in the legislature, or at large, ought to be shut up in a dark room with a tallow dip, a copy of Bryan's Commoner, and a diet of corn bread and black strap molasses. Kerosene oil and refined sugar are too rich for thin blood.

The Pullman combine, if effected, is the best advance attempted in railroad enterprise for a long time. It will give every road an opportunity to control its own sleepers, and the public will be infinitely better served than ever before.

This result always follows the combination of capital. Men who are shrewd enough to amass large fortunes are not fools. They discover very early in their career that the general public is their clientage. That this clientage demands good quality, fair prices and prompt service.

The rapid strides of combined capital to meet public demands, may crowd out small competition, and create for a time disturbance, and work more or less hardship to a limited class, but the great mass of humanity is not in trade, and the multitude walk a mile to save a nickel, without stopping to notice whether Rockefeller is behind the nickel or some other fellow.

Let the good work go on. Congress, as well as the states, will discover that trusts are like a will-o'-the-wisp—extremely difficult to locate, and hard to kill.

AGUINALDO'S ATTITUDE.

While 50,000 Filipinos have recently surrendered and expressed a desire for citizenship under American direction, Aguinaldo is reported as more rebellious than ever, and declares that he will never accept any terms, except absolute freedom, and an opportunity for his tribes to govern themselves.

He believes in time a change of administration will result in conceding their rights, and talks about President McKinley as a tyrant.

It is very evident that the rebel leader is well informed as to conditions in this country and that sympathizers have made him believe that there is a strong political sentiment in America that regards him as a much abused hero.

That his faith is not unfounded was very apparent during the last campaign. Had Bryanism won, Aguinaldo would have been the second Washington that sentimental people have prated about.

It is fortunate for the country, as well as for the Filipinos that Bryanism did not succeed. If it had, this country would have been so busy looking after wrecks of various kinds at home, that the distant possessions would have suffered from neglect, and Aguinaldo, left to his own devices, might have established a reign of terror more dangerous than anything that Spain ever inaugurated.

The rebel leader should be captured, and either banished or locked up. He is totally unfit to govern and is too dangerous a leader to be at large.

If his sympathizers in this country could be muzzled for six months, it would end the rebellion. There are too many Aguinaldos on American soil, more dangerous than the rebel leader, because civilized and courteous. What they lack is a downward of ordinary common sense, and that is about as difficult to supply as brains.

They are not rebels at heart, but rebels in theory, and in full sympathy with the rebel movement. More dangerous because scattered, than they would be if colonized. But they are so largely in the minority, that while they may retard the progress of Christian civilization, they will never prevent it.

Time will be required to establish a government in Aguinaldo's country, but time and American humanity will conquer, and when it does the rebel leader, as well as his people, will witness the dawn of better days than they ever dreamed of.

The New York Tribune has recently published a list of the wars of the nineteenth century, which shows that over two hundred wars have been fought in one hundred years. Progress has been carried forward on the powder cart quite as much as on the wings of peace.

A bill has been introduced in congress making marriage and divorce laws national. So long as the present system of state laws continues, the United States can be justly charged with failing to afford ample protection to the sanctity of the home.

One trouble with our government treatment of the Indian, is that it pays in dollars and cents to remain an Indian tribe, rather than to become a civilized being, and be compelled to work for a living.

Guam has become our St. Helena, to which Philippine political and military leaders are being sent. Why not deport there Mrs. Lease, Pettigrew, Debs, Pingree and a few other anti-Americans?

Galveston is proving that she richly deserves all the sympathy expressed in dollars, that the world showered on her.

If congress had voted to abolish its canteens in the capitol, it certainly would have been consistent throughout in its prohibitory policy.

The fourteenth amendment evidently does not follow the flag into southern states.

Aguinaldo is dead again. He had better be careful or he will stay dead some of these times.

Probably Mrs. Nation could write something about this strenuous life, also.

A trust is a body of men entirely surrounded by water.—"Anon's Dictionary."

The senators are evidently afraid of "Robbers in the House."

SHORTAGE IN K. P. ENDOWMENT FUND

About $8,000 Found Short in the Accounts of a Trusty Clerk in the Chicago Offices.

During the last four days an investigation of the finances of the Endowment Rank of the Knights of Pythias has been underway in Chicago and will not be concluded before tomorrow. So far a shortage of $8,000 has been discovered. Whether the shortage will grow under the scrutiny of experts remains to be seen.

The shortage is charged against a trusty clerk in the society's offices, which are located in the Fisher building. His name is withheld, but will be made known, it is said, as soon as the exact amount missing is ascertained. This clerk's misuse of the order's funds in no way affects the financial welfare of the Endowment Rank, as he is under bonds for over three times the amount of the shortage.

John A. Hinesy, president of the board of control, presented his resignation and C. F. S. Neal of Lebanon, Ind., was appointed to succeed him by Ogden H. Fethers, supreme chancellor. Mr. Hinesy's resignation had no connection with the investigation of the books. He was not concerned with the financial management of the order.

Confirmation of the embezzlement report was obtained last night from C. S. Hardy, attorney for the Endowment Rank. Mr. Hardy insisted, however, that the order was amply protected against any loss.

Supreme Chancellor Ogden H. Fethers was interviewed at his home in this city in regard to the matter.

Mr. Fethers says there is but little to add to the statement made in this morning's Chicago Tribune by Mr. Hardy the general consul of the endowment rank. "The investigation will be continued until we have found all shortages. We do not expect full restitution," Charles F. S. Neal whom I have appointed president of the board of control is a man of unusual business ability, energy and integrity. He will devote his entire time to his new position and I expect excellent results."

The Endowment Rank of the Knights of Pythias is a fraternal insurance organization with a membership of 66,000. The order has a surplus of nearly $400,000 to its credit at present.

George Kastner for Alderman.

George Kastner was unanimously nominated at the Fifth ward republican caucus held last night, as the party's candidate for alderman to fill out the unexpired term of James Sennott, who has removed from the ward. Mr. Kastner has been a resident of the ward for a great many years and is well fitted for the duties of the office. Vote for Kastner at the coming election and put a good man in office.

Napoleon's Chateau Is Restored.

Malmaison, the old chateau near Paris, once occupied by the First Napoleon and his discarded wife Josephine de Beauharnais, has now been completely restored, thanks to the munificence of M. Osiris. The residence was badly damaged during the German invasion, and also during the Commune of 1871. For years it was in a dilapidated condition, but the restorers have done their work well. The grand salon, decorated long ago by Percier and Fontaine, has been successfully treated by M. Jambon, who obtained many valuable hints from an old water color drawing of the room in the possession of one of Fontaine's descendants. M. Osiris has given over Malmaison to the state, which will have to provide the furniture and hangings, and to turn the palace into a museum of Napoleonic relics.

AN EVENING WITH ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Benjamin Chapin's Impersonation of the First American—Interesting and Profitable.

Benjamin Chapin entertained a large audience at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium last evening with his impersonation of Abraham Lincoln. The gentleman has a deep, strong voice and a rugged face and with this physical equipment he succeeded very well in presenting a living portrait of the man whom Lowell called "The First American."

In part I Mr. Chapin sat at a table and held imaginary conversation with Stanton, Seward, Chase, Gen. Scott and other members of his cabinet and army and navy officers. This covered the time immediately following his inauguration, when the cabinet felt that the president's foreign policy was either undefined or else not emphatically enunciated. Lincoln's tact in dealing with these shrewd statesmen, politicians and navy officers, diplomats and super-sensitive soldiers as they were, his mental grasp of their peculiarities and his patience with their utter failure to comprehend him was presented very ably.

Part II opened with the events preceding the firing on Fort Sumpter. Mr. Chapin came upon the stage provided with a make-up outfit and while he talked with Stanton, Dana, Scott, Butler and others proceeded to transform himself into a duplicate of the war president. He modeled himself after the best authorized portraits and achieved a clever imitation.

He made prominent Lincoln's serenity and poise. He never lost hold of himself. He simply became earnest and emphatic. His lack of personal vanity was displayed in an interview with General Butler whom he sent with a host of military commissions to the secretary of war for his signature. Butler returned with a woeful face and said that Stanton had said that the president must be a blanked fool to ask such a thing and he refused to sign.

"And did Stanton say I was a —?" Well, I have great confidence in my secretary of war, and if he said that I was, why then I must, but wait. I'll go and see him myself."

Several instances of his homely humor were given. It had rather a barnyard flavor but never missed the point. The humor was made secondary to the lesson that it was used to illustrate.

To admirers of Lincoln and especially to the school children of this country who need something more vivid than a book acquaintance with our great men Mr. Chapin's impersonation could not fail to be both interesting and profitable.

INCANDESCENT HOUSE LIGHTING.

A few of its advantages are: the ease with which it can be turned on or off by means of switches even from points distant from the lights.

No heat nor dirt is given off and the light readily lends itself to artistic arrangements and decorations.

In the decoration of a home it is of the greatest importance to consider the kind of light we are to use. If you use a heat and soot producing illuminant, the paper and housefurnishings should be selected accordingly, for light paper, carpets or upholstery will be practically ruined in a short time and lace curtains will be opened a dingy gray rather than a fresh white.

Any open flame is a bad thing to have in a human habitation. It is consuming air and that is what we primarily exist upon. As the saying is, "It makes the air bad." Those who breathe it makes them sleepy. Malaria is often blamed for this "lured feeling."

Another advantage is the facility with which it can be installed to produce a better diffusion of light.

The old idea of a group of lights in the center of a room has become obsolete. The aim of progressive architects is to so distribute the lights around the room that there will be no shadows cast.

We will always be pleased to consult with prospective leaders about the best arrangement of lights and to give estimates for installing.

Outside connections are made and meters set without expense to customers.

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

TO FORCE THE SUBSIDY.

This Plan Is Announced By Senator Frye.

TURNER DENOUNCES BILL.

Says It Is a Raid on the Public Treasury and Would Commit the Government to Expenditures Aggregating $270,000,000—Pass Indian Bill.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—The shipping bill is again to the front in the senate and it will not be laid aside again until it has been voted upon or an agreement is reached as to the time for taking a vote. Senator Frye made the following statement in connection with his request to proceed with the consideration of the bill:

"I desire to say now that I do not intend to yield to anybody for anything during the consideration of this bill. I do not intend to yield to an appropriation bill unless, by a vote of the senate, I am compelled to do so. There is not the slightest difficulty about the passage of the appropriation bills provided this bill is out of the way."

Mr. Turner (Wash.) spoke against the bill. He said it was one of the most extraordinary measures ever brought before congress. It was vicious in principle and absurd in the extravagance to which it proceeded. Mr. Turner said he had been appealed to to support the bill on the ground that it would help his state. But he declared it was not calculated to benefit any community, but rather to enrich a few private individuals. He maintained also that the bill was paternalism carried to an extreme. It was one-quarter government paternalism and three-quarters a "lawless, piratical raid on the public treasury." The only consideration given to the farmers by this bill, Mr. Turner said, was for the purpose of providing a sauce to force this "atrocious and villainous concoction down the throats of the American people." He declared that the subsidy bill would commit the government to expenditures aggregating $270,000,000. This, he said, was a mere gift to a favored industry and he predicted that the time would soon come when the ship owners of the United States could build their own ships independently of governmental aid. Amendments to the bill were agreed to.

Indian Appropriation Bill Passed.
When the Indian appropriation bill was taken up amendments were made continuing the Indian agencies at the Sac and Fox reservation, Iowa; the Neah Bay agency, Washington; the Nevada agency, Nevada; the Siltz agency, South Dakota, and the Puyallup agency, Washington, which had been struck out by the committee. The amendments met spirited opposition. Mr. Platt (Conn.) urging that it was time to do away with agencies in localities where the Indians had become civilized to the extent of adopting the habits and dress of civilization. The bill finally was passed.

Many Topics Discussed in the House.
The house spent the day upon the agricultural appropriation bill. It was used as a vehicle for the introduction of several general speeches. Mr. Thayer (Mass.) discussed the ship subsidy bill; Mr. White (N. C.), the colored member, who goes out of congress March 4, delivered his valedictory upon the general subject of the aspirations of his race, and Mr. Gaines (Tenn.) discussed the limitations of the constitution in connection with our insular possessions. Mr. Corliss (Mich.) made a vigorous onslaught upon the bureau of animal industry of the agricultural department, but his attack raised a host of defenders, and his amendment to reduce the appropriation for the bureau was overwhelmingly defeated.

Fixes Gold as the Standard.
The report of Representative Overstreet of Indiana upon the bill which he was authorized by the banking committee to report to the house "to maintain the parity of the money of the United States," was presented to the house. The report declares that the bill "reaffirms the declaration of the United States government to maintain the parity of all forms of money with the gold standard of value, and makes provision whereby the parity of the silver dollars may be maintained by exchange or gold at the treasury upon the demand of the holder."

Cuba Discussed by the Cabinet.
The cabinet session was unusually long, over two hours and a half being given by the president and his official advisers to the consideration of foreign and domestic affairs, special attention being paid Cuba. Senator Cullom says the president does not consider himself possessed of sufficient authority as commander-in-chief of the army and navy to withdraw our military forces from Cuba until congress has determined that a stable government exists in the islands.

Look for War with Germany.
Naval officers are curious regarding the sentiment which prevails in congress and in the service toward Germany. The impression exists that the next war in which this country will be engaged will be with Germany, and the belief is so strongly implanted that something like preliminary preparations have been made by the navy department against such an event.

Chinese Take Vengeance.
Seattle, Wash., Jan. 30.—Advices from the orient brought by the United States transport Argo give a remarkable story of vengeance meted out to a Chinese who informed the foreign troops of hidden treasure of $17,000 in a small town twenty miles from Peking. On hearing the village the Chinese were sent ahead of the expedition, which numbered about twenty-five men, under British Col. Tullock, to prepare the villagers. When the gold hunters arrived they found the head of their informer in a bag and the villagers made other manifestations of their hostility to the troops. Re-enforcements were sent for and in the meantime the troops bivouacked in the village shops. The treasure is still hidden.

Fight Over Neely's Bond.
New York, Jan. 30.—A special to the Times from Baltimore says: "President Edwin Warfield of the Fidelity and Deposit company of Baltimore has gone to New York to consult Frank H. Platt, Vice president of the company, concerning the $30,000 bond of Charles F. W. Neely, former director of finance of the Cuban postal service. Demand has also been made upon the company for the $10,000 bond of Estes G. Rathbone. President Warfield says that the company has neither admitted nor denied liability in these cases, nor will it do so until fully satisfied that the claims are just."

Consul Hay Coming Home.
Cape Town, Jan. 30.—Adelbert S. Hay, United States consul at Pretoria, will sail from here Jan. 30.

According to a dispatch from Washington, dated Dec. 20, last, Consul Hay had obtained the permission of the state department to return to the United States. It was added that he would probably not go back to South Africa and that William D. Gordon of Illinois, United States consular agent at Johannesburg, would succeed Mr. Hay as consul at Pretoria.

Michigan Tax Law Sustained.
Lansing, Mich., Jan. 30.—In a unanimous opinion handed down the Supreme court sustained the constitutionality of the law taxing inheritances. An order was also granted by the court today, in answer to ex-Gov. Pingree's application, directing the Ingham county Circuit court to show cause why a writ should not issue prohibiting it from proceeding with the contempt case now pending against Mr. Pingree.

Railroad Strike in Paris.
Paris, Jan. 30.—A general strike of the employees of the underground railroad has been declared. The stations are occupied by troops. There is a general congestion of passenger traffic, especially among shoppers and people traveling to and from business.

Minister Killed by a Car.
Redwood Falls, Minn., Jan. 30.—The Rev. Samuel Andrews, a Presbyterian minister at Wabasso, was killed by a car. Both legs and left arm were severed. He leaves a widow, daughter and two sons at Faribault.

Explosion Injures Four.
La Salle, Ill., Jan. 30.—Three men were probably fatally burned by the explosion of a gasoline lamp in the buffet of the Parks hotel. Two of the men reached the street and rolled in the snow. The injured men are William Steffins, bartender; Arthur Steffins, assistant; Charles Johnson, boiler-maker, and James Reidy, laborer. The first three are in a critical condition.

Carnegie Will Give $50,000.
Lewiston, Me., Jan. 30.—The city council has voted unanimously to accept the offer of Andrew Carnegie to give for a free public library ten times the amount the city would appropriate annually for its support. Mr. Carnegie will be called upon for $50,000, the council voting $5,000 annually. The offer from Mr. Carnegie was the result of a letter written by one of the women of Mary Dillingham Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, which a short time ago established a tiny public library.

BIG BLAZE IN DES MOINES.

Property Valued at $500,000 Destroyed—Car Service Crippled.

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 30.—Fire which broke out early in the morning in Frankel Bros. department store, corner Sixth and Walnut streets, destroyed over half a million dollars' worth of property. The losses are covered by insurance. The fire was first discovered by a patrolman at 3:05 a. m., in the corner of the clothing department, coming direct from the basement. It was but a moment before the whole building was in flames.

Every available fireman in the city was ordered out, but the structure was doomed before they arrived and their attention was largely devoted to saving the adjoining structures, consisting of the Des Moines National bank, the Utica Clothing company and the Seeley department store. By 6 o'clock a solitary wall of the six-story Frankel building was left standing, and the firemen pulled that down. Not a dollar of the $250,000 stock was saved and the destruction of the property is complete. The First National Bank building, which is directly across the street, caught fire, but after a hard struggle was saved, although damaged to the extent of several thousand dollars. The Utica Clothing company and the Seeley department store, upon the adjoining corners, suffered similarly in the damage to stock and fixtures. The loss to the Frankels is estimated at $375,000, consisting of $225,000 on the stock, and $125,000 on the building. The firm has announced already it will rebuild. The destruction of the electric, telephone and telegraph wires, as a consequence of the fire led to a temporary abandonment of the street-car service and the operation of many factories dependent upon the wires for power.

Dakota Girl's Comb Explodes.
Beresford, S. D., Jan. 30.—A peculiar accident happened here at St. Mary's Catholic church. Miss Nona Ryan, a young woman about 19 years of age, sat near and with her back toward the stove, when an explosion took place in her hair, which was wadded upon the back of her head, and immediately her whole head was enveloped in flame. John L. Reedy and Robert O'Reilly tried in vain to extinguish the flames, but found it necessary to cut the hair from her head with a jackknife, the only accessible instrument. The girl will recover. The cause of the explosion was found to be an overheated celluloid comb, which ignited from the heat of the stove.

Santry Out in Fourth.
Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 30.—Eddie Santry of Chicago was knocked out in the fourth round of what was to have been a twenty-round contest here by Jack McClelland of this city. With a maze of punches first to the body and then to jaw the local man put the once clever Chicagoan down for the count. Santry was unconscious for almost ten minutes. Santry did well for a couple of rounds. His long, sharp left worked havoc with McClelland. In the second the latter went down from a short, right-hand hook on the jaw. This was the last time that Santry seemed dangerous.

Elope as an Accommodation.
Princeton, Ky., Jan. 30.—James Ralston, a farm hand, planned to elope with Bessie Williamson, 18, last night. He confided his secret to Frank Hope, a friend who promised to give every assistance necessary. After the two started for the home of the young lady Ralston confessed he would gladly back out if it was possible. After a talk Hope decided to try to help his friend, and, with the girl's consent, took Ralston's place and eloped with her. They went to Cairo, Ill., where they were married.

Two Islands Ceded by Spain.
Madrid, Jan. 30.—The cession of Sibutu and Cagayan de Jolo Islands to the United States has been gazetted. Washington, Jan. 30.—The president sent a message to congress recommending the appropriation of $100,000 for the payment of the claim of Spain for Sibutu and Cagayan Islands in the Philippine archipelago in accordance with the terms of the treaty recently ratified by the senate.

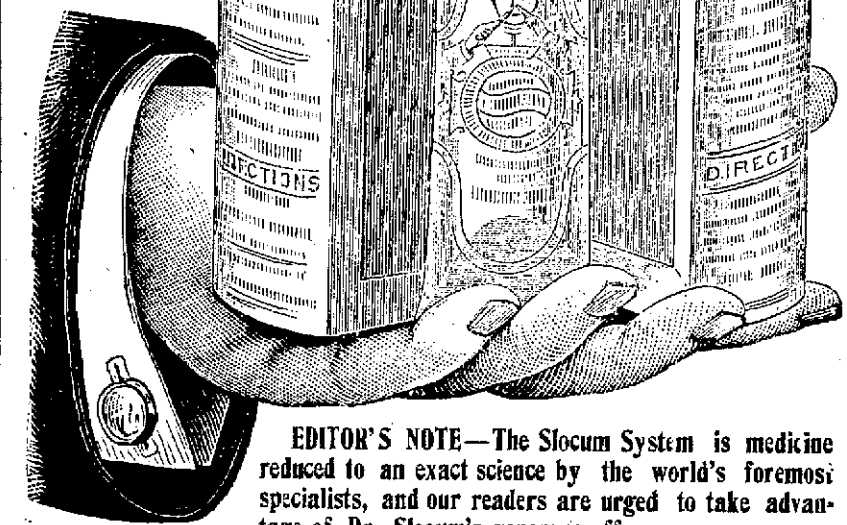

Miners Charge Persecution.
Denver, Jan. 30.—Governor Orman will be asked to protect the miners of Huerfano county and if necessary to place the county under martial law. The application will be made by representatives of the United Mine Workers, who say they have been denied the right of peaceable assemblage by the local officials.

Admiral Kautz Is Retired.
Washington, Jan. 30.—Rear Admiral Albert Kautz, who has just been relieved from command of the Pacific station, was placed on the retired list today on account of age.

HERE IS HEALTH

For all who have Weak Lungs

EDITOR'S NOTE—The Slocum System is medicine reduced to an exact science by the world's foremost specialists, and our readers are urged to take advantage of Dr. Slocum's generous offer.

THESE FOUR REMEDIES

Represent a new system of treatment and cure, for the weak and for those suffering from CONSUMPTION, wasting diseases or inflammatory conditions of the nose, throat, and lungs.

The treatment is free. You have only to write to obtain it.

Its efficiency is explained as simply as possible below.

By the new system devised by DR. T. A. SLOCUM, the great specialist in pulmonary and kindred diseases, all the requirements of the sick body are supplied by the FOUR remedies constituting his Special Treatment known as the Slocum System.

Whatever your disease one or more of these four preparations will be of benefit to you.

According to the needs of your case, fully explained in the Treatise given free with the free medicine, you may take one, or any two, or three, or all four, in combination.

A cure is certain if the simple directions are followed.

The remedies are especially adapted for those who suffer from grip, weak lungs, coughs, sore throat, catarrh, CONSUMPTION, and other pulmonary troubles.

But they are also of wonderful efficacy in the upbuilding of weak systems, in purifying the blood, making flesh, and restoring to weak, shallow people vigorous and healthy constitutions.

WRITE FOR FREE TRIAL.

To obtain these FOUR preparations, illustrated above, that have never yet failed to cure, all you have to do is to write to giving your address. The four remedies will then be sent you direct from laboratories. When writing the doctor please tell him you have read this in the Janesville Gazette, and greatly oblige.

WINE OF CARDUI

HEALTHY OLD AGE.

I am 49 years old and have been suffering with Change of Life. I had flooding spells so bad that none thought I could live. My husband got me Wine of Cardui and it saved my life. I am like another person since taking it.
MRS. E. B. TOWNSEND.

Wine of Cardui

It is the devout wish of nearly all people to live to a ripe old age. None of us want to die young. This universal desire can be realized if care be taken of the health in early and middle life. A little precaution then will add many years to our existence. Death can be kept away a long time. Happy, healthy old age will be the lot of the woman who promptly corrects the ailments which afflict her sex. In youth, Wine of Cardui will take the female child safely over the dividing line between girlhood and womanhood. As a wife she needs it to help her through the trials of pregnancy and childbirth with as little discomfort as possible. At the Change of Life it will help her over the dangerous place that appears in her pathway between 40 and 50. Then will come many years of truly blissful existence. She will grow old slowly and gracefully. To the last she will preserve that charm and beauty which are always characteristic of perfectly healthy grandmothers. It is for women alone to decide whether they will be healthy or sick. The remedy for their sickness is close at hand.

JOHN MARSHALL DAY TO BE OBSERVED

Exercises Being Arranged by Superintendent Mayne, in Which Local Attorneys Will Participate

Prof. D. D. Mayne has made arrangements for the observance of John Marshall Day at the high school on Feb. 4. The exercises will be held in the assembly room of the building and will commence at 8:50 o'clock a. m.

A number of prominent Janesville attorneys will take part in the exercises. William Smith will make the introductory address. Hon. A. A. Jackson will speak upon Marshall as the interpreter of the constitution. Judge C. L. Field will speak of him as a federalist and Judge B. F. Dunwiddie will conclude with Marshall as a man. All of the above gentlemen are thoroughly conversant with their subjects and their addresses will be of great interest to their hearers. Feb. 4 will be observed all over the United States as John Marshall day. Appropriate exercises will be held in all the large cities similar to those for which arrangements have been made by the Milwaukee Bar association.

John Marshall has long been regarded as having been the greatest chief justice who ever sat on the supreme court bench. Every good citizen should esteem it a privilege to participate in the observance commemorating his great worth and will show his interest by attending these exercises.

HE WAS SLOW.

Wherefore He Was at First Sudden, but Later Was Pleased.

She had solemnly promised to be his. She had promised it in the sunshine, under the moonlight, in summer and winter, and he had never doubted that she would be true. A number of years had fled since first she promised, but when a young man is working on a salary of $15 per week it takes fleeting years to get together the furniture necessary to furnish a four room flat. The time came when he could hope. He had got enough for two rooms and was thinking they could rent the other two out to a party of plain and home-like tastes when he called one evening to discuss the matter with Britomart. He found her cold and distant, like a dog viewing a cat on top of a 12 foot fence.

"Darling, what is it?" he asked as he sat down beside her.

"Nawthin much," she answered as she shrank away from him.

"But I must know. I demand to know. You are not usually like this. What has happened?"

"Only a trifle."

"Ah, that relieves me! But what is the trifle?"

"Well, I got married this afternoon to Joseph Bones."

"My God, girl, but do you know what you are saying?" he shouted as he sprang up. "You can't mean it! You are teasing me. Throw your weight on me and tell me that my ears have deceived me."

"But you were so slow," she sighed, "and I thought seven years long enough to wait. Please don't feel bad. Yes, we were married this afternoon, but I will be a sister to you."

"Will you, though?" he asked, with tears in his eyes.

"For sure."

"And you won't expect me to send up bouquets?"

"Not a one."

"Nor theater tickets nor boxes of candy?"

"Not at all."

"And I can have my evenings to knock around with the boys and save enough out of my salary to get square with my laundry bill?"

"You can."

"Then shake! You are a noble girl, and if I ever win anything on the races you shall come in for half. False, false to me, who loved and trusted you so, and yet—shake again! I'm off to see the town by gaslight. 'Ta, ta!'"
